

Sermon notes

New year, new attitude, new me and beginning again
Jeremiah 18:1-6

Have you ever wished you could go back and start over?

Sadly, in most cases, it is impossible to go back and change what has been said or done. There is however one area of your life that you can have a new beginning:

What do you think of the imagery of a potter that Jeremiah uses here?

What does God want from our lives?

How can we begin again?

How do we get to the land of new beginnings?

In Jesus we have a second chance, in Jesus everything that has held us down has the ability to be.....

Sermon notes cont.

In your own words what does Paul proclaim in 2 Corinthians 6: 1-2?

How is a new beginning seen in the image of a refugee?

How is it different?

When is the best time to begin again?

What is the main idea or point behind this passage?
